Computation should be a good blend of theory and practice, and researchers in the field should create algorithms to address real world problems, putting equal weight on analysis and implementation. Experimentation and simulation can be viewed as yielding to refined theories or improved applications. The Workshop on Computation: Theory and Practice (WCTP)-2011 was the first workshop organized jointly by the Tokyo Institute of Technology, the Institute of Scientific and Industrial Research-Osaka University, the University of the Philippines Diliman, and De La Salle University-Manila devoted to theoretical and practical approaches to computation. The aim of the workshop was to present the latest developments by theoreticians and practitioners in academe and industry working to address computational problems that can directly impact the way we live in society. This book comprises the refereed proceedings of WCTP-2011, held in Quezon City, the Philippines, in September 2011. The 16 carefully reviewed and revised full papers presented here deal with biologically inspired computational modeling, programming language theory, advanced studies in networking, and empathic computing. .

This best-selling volume of practice tests has been revised to reflect the changes in format to the Michigan ECPE Preliminary Test (as of September 2004). Teachers will find all their favorite passages, Vocabulary Enhancement exercises and Delving Deeper sections, as well as updated grammar items and exciting new features including 20 pages of Vocabulary Consolidation exercises and optional Internet activities.

As well as introducing students to the format of the KET exams, these books identify the language and skills needed for revision and provide practice in key language areas.

The Longman Exams Skills series is for students preparing for the First Certificate and Proficiency exams. The books in each set provide thorough preparation for each of the papers with lots of practice based on real exam tasks.

This volume gathers contributions in the closely linked fields of English language assessment and language education. The contributors from China and Hong Kong represent a mixture of established and new scholars. Areas covered in the language education section range across major developments in the redefining of Hong Kong's secondary and tertiary curricula, as well as the huge field of China's vocational education curriculum. Regarding assessment, the contributions reflect major changes in the marking of examinations in Hong Kong, whereby all examinations from 2012 onwards are marked onscreen, to quality control issues in the administration of China's College English Test, which is taken by over 10 million candidates every year.
